The Board & GDPR

Board/Management Questions

- A) Is the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) a threat or an opportunity for my business?
- B) How does the GDPR impact other regulations, specifically in relation to the C.I. international financial services industry?
- C) Can the GDPR improve sustainability and growth for my business?

The view from the GDPR Authorities

Building trust in the online environment is key to economic development

"Strong, reliable, consistently applied rules will make data processing safer, cheaper and inspire people's confidence. Confidence in turn drives growth. This is a message that is well understood worldwide. In a letter to the European Parliament strongly supporting the data protection reform package, 25 major US consumer organizations stressed that "stronger privacy standards in Europe will benefit consumers around the globe".

Boost growth and encourage the flow of data

"Sharing data has become crucial for economic growth. Privacy protection and the free flow of data are complementary not contradictory concepts".

Allow business to get on with doing what it does best

"Businesses operating globally will benefit from clear rules that set out how they can use binding corporate rules (BCRs) and standard contractual clauses to transfer personal data securely. The proposal also abolishes many cumbersome prior-authorization procedures. Under certain conditions, it will be possible to transfer data outside the Union on the basis of codes of conduct".

The Islands are well positioned to leverage global reputation

"The Channel Islands are recognised world-wide for high standards of compliance; we are also 2 of the 9 territories outside the EU to have EU Adequacy. This creates a significant opportunity for the C.I. to build on past successes and reputation to ensure a strong and exciting future for our international industries".

Business Benefits of GDPR

General Notice: The following list has been compiled by Comsure Group. It is derived from the ongoing review of GDPR publications from the sources cited below.

C.I. Notice: Some of the publications are subject to change, specifically in the Channel Islands where relevant laws are in the process of being drafted.

Sources (web site links provided on the GDPR Resources page):

- The Official Journal of the EU and The EU Article 29 Working Party on GDPR
- the UK Information Commissioners Office (ICO),
- the Jersey Office of the Information Commissioner (OIC), and
- the Guernsey Office of the Data Protection Commissioner (ODPC).

Holistic Regulation	commensurable with other business regulations
SME Optimised	flexible measures & exemptions appropriate for SME's
International Reach	creates a level playing field & reduces unfair competition
Protects Individuals	management, personnel & client rights equally protected

C.I. GDPR Timeline

Time is now short within UK

The GDPR count-down started April 2016, when it was adopted into law within the EU (pre-BREXIT), and subsequently confirmed by UK Parliament later in 2016 (post BREXIT), not that many noticed (the 'white noise' effect, so timely when strong regulations are ratified).

Time is shorter within the C.I.

The Channel Islands (Jersey/Guernsey) have agreed to apply a unified C.I. version of the GDPR within local law. The published deadline for ratification of the C.I. GDPR law is May 2018, while the earliest drafts of the C.I. laws are expected after summer 2017.

Therefore C.I. businesses will need a mechanism to ensure they are fully informed about the progress of the C.I. GDPR law, including guidance on the implications of the drafts as they come available, specifically regarding financial services regulation considerations.

Beware: C.I. GDPR is not 'fixed' until ratified by C.I. law

C.I. GDPR Surgery Programme

Why you should attend the C.I. GDPR Surgeries

The GDPR has been published and accepted into EU, UK & IoM law in Q2 2016 as a complete regulation. However, the GDPR does not come into force until 25th May 2018 in order to allow interested groups to present objections/changes to the EU Article 29 Working Party.

The GDPR, as at Q2 2017, is not 100% complete and there are changes that may (or may not) be announced throughout 2017.

Article 29 Working Party 2017 Action Plan

The 2017 Action Plan includes the following key elements:

Completion of 2016 Work. The Working Party will finalize its work, begun in 2016, in relation to (1) certification mechanisms, (2) high-risk processing, (3) Data Protection Impact Assessments, (4) administrative fines, (5) the implementation of the European Data Protection Board and (6) the implementation of the one-stop-shop and the consistency mechanisms.

New 2017 Priorities. The Working Party intends to publish guidelines on the following GDPR topics in 2017: (1) consent and profiling and (2) transparency. In addition, the Working Party also intends to update its existing referentials and opinions that relate to (1) data transfers to third countries and (2) data breach notification.

C.I. GDPR Legal Status

Jersey and Guernsey have agreed to a unified C.I. GDPR law. The drafting process will be carried out throughout 2017. However, the [late] deadline for completion is May 2018.

The C.I. GDPR Surgery Workshops allow attendees to be informed and enabled to adapt to change through 2017/18.
